

World Languages and Cultural Studies

The Career Center welcomes the opportunity to partner with Stony Brook University faculty and staff within the Humanities and Language field. We are a resource for Stony Brook students' career and professional development needs.

Meet The Stony Brook University Career Center Team

The Career Center has a wide range of resources that can help students prepare for their career journey using the career community models like: Arts & Communications, Education & Helping Professions, Government, Law & Public Service, Business, Applied Science & Research, Exploring and more!

What skills do global employers and graduate schools want students to possess? (NACE & MWA)

- Interpersonal Skills: Service orientation, social skills, teamwork, oral communication
- Intrapersonal Skills: Adaptability, capacity for improvement, ethical responsibility to self & others
- Global Competency: cultural self-awareness, cross-cultural awareness and adaptability, professionalism, leadership
- Technology Skills: Software knowledge, Microsoft Word and Google application

How can faculty and staff partner with the Career Center?

- Classroom presentations requests on industry career topics such as job search strategies, interviewing skills, how to create a professional online presence, preparation for job fairs/networking, and how to create a standout resume and cover letter
- Request an employer guest speaker to present to your class
- Incorporate Forage into the learning curriculum or have the Career Center come present on Forage

What is Forage?

- Forage industry simulations allow students to learn directly from leading companies and gain valuable career skills and certifications by completing virtual work experiences. These bite-sized 2-6 hour virtual work experiences give students a genuine career advantage with the world's top companies.
- Examples: NSW Government Policy, Leo Cussen Human Rights Law, Ashurst Wellbeing and Resilience
